Effect

The skin possesses large numbers of different receptor cells. Specially tailored active substances such as BioSynerga Complex and Aroma Complex II can stimulate the receptors. These stimuli are passed on via nerves to deeper-lying structures, where they relieve feelings of tension.

Application

Apply 2–4 times a day to the affected areas of the body. Repeat several times if necessary.

Innovation

BioSynergaRelax developed in the DR. SCHWARZENBACH® research laboratories, comprises two highly concentrated plant extracts (kava kava and ginkgo), which are mutually reinforcing in their effect.

Aromakomplex II contains additional active substances comprising four essential oils (wintergreen, peppermint, citronella and carnation).

Combining the two complexes results in a unique synergistic effect that fosters an all-round relaxed sense of wellbeing.

NaturalCarrierSystem Thanks to the special plant-based micro-carrier systems, the active substances are transported through the epidermis to the skin's deeper layers for maximum benefit.

Modelled on nature

No matter how well formulated and state-of-the-art a cosmetic product is, its effectiveness depends entirely on its ability to penetrate the skin where its substance-specific properties can take effect.

Company founder Dr. Bruno P. Schwarzenbach draws parallels between the main requirements for cosmetic products and his hobby of coral breeding: «Corals grow only when the saltwater that surrounds them is at the right concentration and contains enough of the large numbers of nutrients they need. The cells on the surface of the corals play a key role, since only they can absorb the necessary natural nutrients.»

As has happened with corals, the human skin has remained a vital sensory organ throughout the millions of years of evolution. Alongside countless numbers of cells presenting a wide range of functions, integrated within the skin are large numbers of important receptors. These react to external stimuli and pass on their responses to deeper dermal layers. It means that specially formulated cosmetic substances can have a beneficial effect on the composition of the skin, and that various mechanisms can be stimulated deep below the skin's surface – muscles can be relaxed, the blood circulation improved, and waste products and toxins flushed out.

DR. SCHWARZENBACH® Life Science Cosmetics are based on the findings of biomedical science. The care products all contain natural, 100% plant-based active substances. To ensure the skin receives the full benefit of their effects, the company has collaborated with experienced pharmacists in its research laboratories to develop breakthrough innovations:

BioSynergaComplexes and the NaturalCarrier-System. The various BioSynergaComplexes feature blends of synergistic ingredients designed to reinforce each other's effect. Encapsulated in the NaturalCarrierSystem, these complexes are able to penetrate deep into the skin.

For DR. SCHWARZENBACH® each of its care products has to be credible, effective and simple to use. Thanks to the optimum concentration and combination of natural active substances, its cosmetic products are suitable for men and women of all ages and skin types.
